

1 While you are putting together your MacFile, feel free to illustrate it by adding pictures and photos you find from other sources. They should, of course, relate in some way to Macbeth and your reading experience.

At the same time you should be looking around for ideas and material to design your MacFiles cover. It probably makes sense to finish your designs once you have done everything else, since you might change your mind about the design while you deal with Macbeth.

2 Before you start reading, consider what you expect from Macbeth?

What do you know about the play?

Write down 5 words that sum up your ideas.

3 In order to remember each scene, choose to do one of the following for each scene:

b) Select a phrase that you consider characteristic of the scene

c) Find or draw a symbol that represents the scene in some way.

4 Always check the stage directions for the weather. Use symbols to show what the weather is like in which scene and whether it is dark or light.
